

COPYRIGHT ETHICS TO BE FOLLOWED BY AUTHORS

Articles submitted to the Biodiversity Watch should not have been published before in their current or substantially similar form, or be under consideration for publication with another journal or book. Authors submitting articles for publication are required to undertake that the research paper is not an infringement of any existing copyright and will indemnify the publisher against any breach of such warranty. For ease of dissemination and to ensure proper policing of use, papers and contributions become the legal copyright of the publisher unless otherwise agreed.

The Editor in Chief, Biodiversity Watch is authorized to administer appropriate measures or software for checking the originality of papers submitted for publication. The authors are required to submit copyright form duly filled up and submitted along with the paper submitted for publication.